Dear Newsletter,

Boots mystery solved!

Now the financial pages have revealed that Boots The Chemist is under offer from an Indian Consortium, having been on the market since December last, perhaps we have the solution to why things have been so dire in Boots Heacham (and Hunstanton) for so many months.

It appears that they (Boots The Chemist) are in a period of "due diligence", which effectively means that no management decisions can be taken until the bid has been resolved, one way or the other. Not that that is a comfort to Heacham staff or shoppers, because it will still be many months before all negotiations are wrapped up and the staff can move forward confident that they have jobs and a future!

So, perhaps this will add just enough patience to their customers' fortitude, to help the local staff through what must be a trying time - not least because of their workload - and bear with them a little longer.

Dear Newsletter,

Heacham Park

Heacham Parish Council have taken a lot of criticism lately, but, in my opinion, they deserve a round of applause for the sterling work they have undertaken with the owners of the Park, in realising the safeguarding of this wonderful part of the old village for future generations. This beautiful part of the village has always been of some concern to many of the parishioners, myself included, for many years, who thought that it should have been part of the conservation area, thus safeguarding it.

How wonderful it is that Dan and Leora have made this marvellous gesture to preserve this beautiful landscape for the village, and I am sure that many of the parishioners will join with me in giving our thanks for such a magnanimous gesture. To top it off, they are also keen to discuss ways of letting the community use their land for the benefit of groups within the village...how lucky we are to have this couple living amongst us, and wishing to be active participants in our community.

Well done to all concerned.

Leaside

Dear Newsletter,

‘Thank You’

I wish to express my heartfelt appreciation and very grateful thanks to the many people who contributed to the success of the Platinum Jubilee Gala held in Hunstanton Town Hall on Saturday 4th June – not only the artistes who so generously gave their services and the donors of several raffle prizes, but also those who worked hard over several weeks by promoting the show and on the night by helping in several different ways. And, of course, those who attended – the audience was large and enthusiastic, and the Mayor, who had taken office only a few days previously, spoke about her chosen charity – the East Anglian Air Ambulance.

I am delighted to announce that the amazing sum of £800 was raised - £400 each for the Queen’s Commonwealth Trust Fund and the Air Ambulance.

This was my fourth Jubilee Gala, the first having taken place in 1977 in Loddon (my former home), and the 2012 event at the Corn Exchange in King’s Lynn. I now hope to stage another fund-raising Piano Party on my 80th Birthday in December, when I hope many kind friends will be able to support my efforts again.

Once more, very many thanks and kindest regards.

John Harris

The Great Beach Litter Pick

On Sunday 10th July between 10am and Noon there will be an organised litter pick at Snettisham Beach, Heacham North and South Beaches, and Hunstanton Beach. Please come along and help.

Councillors will act as co-ordinators and should be found at: Snettisham beach car park, Borough Council beach car parks, North and South, at Heacham; South Promenade long stay car park at Hunstanton. Car parking charges will apply.

The intention is to clear litter and small plastic debris between North Beach, Heacham and Snettisham Beach. And the same at Hunstanton Beach. So walking and carrying a rubbish sack will be necessary. Working in pairs or small groups will likely be useful.

20 litter collecting kits will be provided at each location. Numbers who will turn up are unknown so, if you have a litter picker, please bring it. Gloves are also very useful.

Sites to take collection bags to will be identified.

Further information and updates will be given via Borough Council social media pages on the 4th, 7th and 8th July.

HEACHAM BEREAVEMENT SUPPORT GROUP

Dear Newsletter

In defence / support of Boots pharmacy

Thank you to our Borough Councillor, Terry Parish, and our Parish Council for the feedback re a meeting with Boots pharmacy. Hopefully pharmacy users will better understand the complexities of the service and what is being provided in very difficult circumstances.

Shall we consider some of the services provided by the pharmacy?

During Covid-19 pandemic – open; yes; there were restrictions and queues but the pharmacy was open every day.

Current Opening hours - 56 hours per week (including all day every Saturday)

Medical help – immediate, walk-in, face-to-face advice from the pharmacist or staff.

Professional staff - 1 on-duty pharmacist + trained support staff.

Telephone contact – hundreds of calls each day; medication and other queries.

Dispensing prescriptions – thousands every day.

Other NHS services – too numerous to list here; just take a look at the Boots Heacham website.

I am not connected in any way with the Boots pharmacy, but I do want to see fair play.

Mrs A J Hoyle
Heacham resident

WHERE: Pine Mall Residents Hall, 18 Wilton Road, Heacham, PE31 7AD

WHEN: On the first Thursday of every month - July 7th; August 4th; September 1st; October 6th;

WHAT TIME: 10am – 12pm

If you are grieving for someone who has died recently or long ago, why not come and join us for a cup of coffee or tea and a chat. We are a very informal group and it will give you the opportunity to meet others who are on the same journey. If you want to bring a friend or another member of the family, they will be very welcome.

Scarecrow Trail

Back in March at a Parish Council Community Amenities committee meeting, the idea of a scarecrow trail was suggested as part of the Queen's Platinum Jubilee Celebrations. It was agreed to place adverts in The Heacham Newsletter to see if there would be any interest.

Fast forward to the Jubilee weekend.

I walked the trail over two days, meeting others along the way doing the same thing. Many people were passing on details of their favourites.

There were 29 official entries, including one beautifully decorated garden. Some of the entries had multiple scarecrows, which made our scarecrow population around 50. The hard work, care, attention to detail and humour was evident in every entry. Homes and businesses had also done sterling work putting up flyers, bunting and banners.

At the time of writing, winners have yet to be declared and I'm sure the village will choose wisely.

I would like to thank everyone who entered or contributed in any way.

Thanks go to Norfolk Lavender for sponsoring the winning prizes, our Parish Clerk, and her Assistant, for organising the admin, mechanics, banners, and trail maps, but also to you, the Heacham residents, for making it such a popular and fun part of a weekend to remember.

Author of the Month

The Northumbrian born author, L J Ross, takes to centre stage this month with her series of murder mystery novels featuring DCI Ryan. These books are set in Louise's wild and atmospheric home county using many well-known landmarks as backdrops e.g. Holy Island (Lindisfarne), Bamburgh and Alnwick castles, Craggside, High Forth to name but a few. If you enjoy crime fiction, give DCI Ryan a try – we think you will soon be hooked on this series.

News:

Do you have any? The Library has plenty of space for displaying community events and information so please feel free to drop in a poster to us and we will advertise it for you.

Library Survey: This short survey will take place after the main summer holidays and will be available in both paper and online formats. However, we welcome suggestions and ideas at any time.

Diary:

Displays: We are looking forward to holding a series of mini displays featuring different aspects of Heacham village life. The first of these will focus on Heacham's shops – past and present - and will run from August through to October 2022. We are sure that this fascinating display will be of interest to residents and visitors alike. Entry is free during normal Library opening hours. Don't miss it!

Police Surgery: Following the successful first event held last November, there will be another surgery held this month on Tuesday July 19th from 10am to 12 noon. This is a real opportunity to meet the local beat team and to raise any issues.

Library opening hours:
 Mon/Wed/Fri 10.00am to 4.00pm
 Sat 10.00am to 12.00noon.

Heacham in Bloom

Well, summer is definitely here and our biggest job over the last month and the coming weeks is watering the planting areas around the village. As you may have noticed, we have opted for a 'Jubilee' themed planting scheme this year in the majority of our planting areas, with the inclusion of 'crowns' at the War Memorial, North Beach and the Lavender Junction.

We were proud to join in with the Jubilee Scarecrow Competition initiated by the Parish Council and went with the theme of H.R.H. The Prince of Wales becoming an honorary member of our group; we hope you liked our effort.

At the Fire Station the new plants are settling in nicely. Our last job in this area will be the renewing/top-up of the surrounding gravel and we hope to have this done before the end of the summer. We also plan to put on gravel mulch once we have planted Spring Bulbs. Thank you to the Heacham Fire Station Crew for keeping the area watered.

It's that time of year when we must say a big "thank you" to all of our sponsors who are kindly supporting our "blooming" efforts this year:

We must also say a thank you to Edd Hammond from Moulam & Horn for the loan of the plant trolleys without which the storage of plants pre planting would be a challenge!

And last, but definitely not least, we must say thank you to all of the people who voice their support whilst we are out working or watering, it is very much appreciated!

CHURCHES TOGETHER IN HEACHAM

Heacham Parish Church

Jubilations and Celebrations!

What a great long weekend we had for the Platinum Jubilee at the beginning of June! The clever and creative scarecrows around the village, the bunting and flags on many houses, the flower festival at Heacham Methodist Church along with all the smaller street parties and family/friend celebrations.

I want to thank everyone who contributed to the Heacham Parish Church celebrations particularly:

A huge team of individuals of all ages who played their part, using their gifts and skills, some upfront and obvious, others behind the scenes.

- ♥ The flower ladies who did such a fantastic job with magnificent displays with such thought, creativity and talent.
- ♥ Those who made bunting, in so many creative ways, filling the church with flags and colour. Thanks to those who put all the bunting up too!
- ♥ Those who made, and served, the delicious refreshments and washed up.
- ♥ Those who visited the church and whose company and conversation were enjoyed.
- ♥ Those who made the 3 royal scarecrows
- ♥ Those who played and sung at the Platinum Jubilee thanksgiving service.

As I have said before Heacham is a great village and community to be part of. I love being the Vicar of Heacham, living and working in such a beautiful place is a privilege. Let's continue to celebrate our village and the community who live, work and visit here - whether it's a jubilee or not!

'I thank my God every time I remember you. In all my prayers for all of you, I always pray with joy'

Veronica
Revd Veronica Wilson, Vicar of Heacham

St Mary's Church Opening Times

The Church is open from 10am to 4pm every day.

July 2022 Services

There will be a service in church every Sunday at 10am. Services are live streamed on Heacham Parish Church Youtube channel. We also have a recording of the service on our Youtube channel which will be available each Sunday, after the service has taken place.

3rd July:	Holy Communion
10th July:	Thanksgiving for Messy Church
17th July:	Holy Communion
24th July:	Confirmation and Communion
31st July:	Morning Prayer

We worship in a number of different ways including:

HEACHAM PARISH CHURCH online
on Heacham Parish Church You Tube channel

HEACHAM PARISH CHURCH in church
At 10am every Sunday morning

New Technology

Exciting news – the Church has got WIFI! So this is our new GoodBox; we can accept donations using watches, phones, cards etc. and have arrived in the age of contactless cashless giving! It is really easy to use - so please come in and give it a try!

Bereavement Support Group

Meetings are on the first Thursday of each month. The next meeting is on 7th July from 10am till 12 noon, at the Pine Residents Hall. For more information contact the Church Office.

Labyrinth

The grass labyrinth will remain in the churchyard for the summer months; do come to walk and pray in it.

Prayer Tree

We have a prayer tree in church on which you can write a name or situation that you want to pray for, and you want the church to pray for. By writing and hanging it on the tree, God hears your prayer and we will pray for you. If you can't get to church and would like a name added let Rev'd Veronica Wilson (heacham.vicar@gmail.com) know.

There is a Contemplative Prayer Meeting - 'Praying for the Names on the Tree' every Wednesday 9.30am-10.30am in church. Everyone is welcome.

Prayer

Every weekday morning at 9am a group meet on Zoom to pray for our village community. We pray for all who live and work here, for our shops and businesses, our schools, residential homes, surgery, amenities, etc.

If you would like us to pray for you specifically, or someone or a situation on your heart, please ring or email Veronica (details below).

Save the Date

On Friday 9th September at 6pm the internationally renowned harpist Gabriella Dall'Olio with the brilliant Klio Blonz on the flute, will be playing a concert for us in Heacham. More information about the evening and purchase of tickets to follow soon.

Hunstanton Catholic Parish

With parish events now restarting, our parish BBQ will be held at OLSE, Hunstanton; on Saturday 20th August. All are welcome to come along and enjoy a pleasant social gathering. Tickets will be available soon, see the weekly bulletins or website for more details.

We also have regular Rosary prayer meetings at St Cecilia's every Monday from 2pm and there is also a Mothers Prayers group which meet at 2.30pm Monday fortnightly at OLSE.

We have refreshments after Mass every Sunday at OLSE, Hunstanton and on the first Sunday of each month after Mass and after Mass on Wednesdays, at St Cecilia's, Dersingham.

There is also a fair-trade stall in the meeting room at St Cecilia's on the first Sundays of the month.

The Pope's prayer intention for July: Elderly. We pray for the elderly, who represent the roots and memory of a people; may their experience and wisdom help young people to look towards the future with hope and responsibility.

Our parish has been supporting the appeal for items for Ukraine, with both churches acting as collection points. There is a list of items required in the porches of both churches.

A few members of the parish have been getting together, originally to discuss the Synodal consultation, but have carried on with the meetings to discuss ways to enliven the life of the parish following the drop in attendance due to the pandemic of the last couple of years. The dates of the meetings will be published on the website and in the weekly church bulletins and anyone interested in contributing in any way is more than welcome to take part.

Sr Danuta is guiding a regular parish study/discussion group at the Convent every Tuesday, 4.00-5.00pm, looking in more depth at the readings for the following Sundays. Anyone who is interested is welcome to come along to any of the meetings and take part.

The Sisters at St Theresa's Convent, Sandringham Road, are now offering daily Mass at 12 noon. Please confirm with them if you intend to be present. Contact 01485 532837.

Another Recipe from The Prudent Pensioner

Carrot and Apricot Cake Makes 10 generous slices

Ingredients:

75g/2½ oz. dried apricots cut in halves
 170g/6 oz. S.R. Flour
 45g/1½ oz. butter softened
 140g/5oz soft brown sugar
 2 large eggs
 115g/4oz carrots peeled and grated
 1 dessertspoon apricot jam
 1 teaspoon vanilla extract (optional)

Method:

Line a 2lb loaf tin. Set oven at 375f/180c
 Put butter, carrots, sugar and apricots into a large mixing bowl and mix well. Add eggs and vanilla essence (if using) and mix well. Add flour into mixture and fold in. Add apricot jam and mix in. Put mixture in to loaf tin and cook for approx. 50mins or until done when tested.

I think it improves flavour if left for 24 hours before eating or freezing.

My updated book "Less Waste more Soup" 45 easy, budget friendly recipes for nourishing soup is now available from Amazon. A search for Doreen Reed will find it (together with my books of light hearted poems and tales). Following on from the very comprehensive article last month, from Duane Gowen, I thought I would do a brief summary of last season for both of our teams.

1st Team

It has been well documented that the 1st team became Champions of the Fosters Solicitors Anglian Combination Premier Division and, by doing so, have gained promotion to the Thurlow Nunn Division 1 North (they will be playing at their highest level in the club's history). They won the division by a clear 9 points and boasted a perfect home record of 15 wins from 15 games and, in the process, scored 50 goals and only conceded 10. The away record was just as impressive: 9 wins, 3 draws and only 3 losses all season scoring 47 goals and conceding just 17. Overall, the record was:

Played 30 Won 24 Drew 3 Lost 3 Goals for 97 Goals against 27 = Goal difference +70 Points 75, a really truly very impressive record. You can also add to this that they also reached the semi-final of the Mummery Cup (losing narrowly on penalties) and also the quarter-final of the Norfolk Senior Cup (on both occasions losing to the eventual winners).

Reserve Team

The reserve team finally finished a very credible 3rd place in the North West Norfolk League Division 1 with a record of Played 18 Won 12 Drew 2 Lost 4 Goal difference +20 Points 38, but most importantly throughout the season, they supplied brilliant back up to the first team, which sometimes resulted in the reserves being under strength for their own league matches.

The question you may be asking: Did the reserves make it into the final of the George Graver Cup? Well, the answer is Yes & No!

They did beat Terrington Tigers 8-2 in the semi-final, but unfortunately many players were used who had previously played for the 1st team, so the league had no choice but to award the tie to Terrington Tigers and they took full advantage of the reprieve to beat Watlington 3-2 in the final (which was held at Heacham).

Awards Night

The end of season party was held at Heacham Manor and this gave the opportunity for players, managers, coaches, volunteers and supporters to get together to celebrate the most successful season in the club's history. Here is a full list of award winners:-

"Dusty Miller Shield" Supporters Player of the Year - ROYCE RAWLINGS

They both bring a wealth of experience and we can look forward to a very exciting time next season for the reserve team.

Supporters Club Update

Firstly, I would like to thank everyone who took out membership last season and I can report that by the end of the season we had 176 paid up members (from 112 the previous season) and the facebook page is fast approaching 400 followers. The support on and off the field has been absolutely tremendous and your support has meant that the Player Welfare Fund, that was put in place during the season, has been able to assist financially a couple of our players who received bad injuries, to help with their loss of earnings.

Membership cost for next season will remain at £5 (for the 3rd season running) and included in the membership will be a very special limited edition pin badge to celebrate the "Champions of the Anglian Combination Premier Division". I am hoping that everyone will join again next season and wouldn't it be great to hit that 200 mark! Also, must not forget the "free" prize draws held throughout the season, which are included in your membership plus discounts which are available from local businesses. For more information regarding membership then please do not hesitate to contact me.

The "100 Club" continues throughout the summer and draw dates are as follows:-

- June 25th - during half time v Peterborough Sports (friendly)
- July 16th - during half time v Eaton Socon (friendly)
- Aug - during half time at 1st league game of the new season (tba once fixtures have been released)
- Sept to Dec - hopefully all will be at half time when the 1st team have a home match.

Matchday Volunteers

As previously mentioned, we are still looking for help on matchdays, so if you can spare a few hours of your time please get in touch or wander down for a chat at any home game. You will find us a very friendly bunch!

Heacham at Night

July. The Jacks are away for a while, the longest day has come and gone and the nights are drawing in.

On the 4th, the Earth is at aphelion, its furthest distance from the Sun, on its slightly elliptical orbit. Perihelion, Earth's closest approach, was on January 4th. The difference is 3 million miles, not enough to influence the climate. However, Earth is traveling a little slower at aphelion than it is at perihelion so the northern hemisphere summer is about 3 days longer than its winter.

The planets are beginning to reappear in our heavens nicely strung out like beads on a string. You will still have to stay up late or get up early but it will be comparatively warm.

All the planets barring Mercury are on show though a telescope will be needed for Neptune and, at least, good, stable, binoculars for Uranus. That still leaves you with Saturn, Jupiter, Mars and Venus to spot with the naked eye. The order I have written them in, is the order in which they appear as the night advances.

Several things to take note of: The Earth rotates, about its axis, towards the East and that's why the Sun sets in the west and rises in the east.

Internet

The passage of the Sun follows an arc in the sky named the ecliptic. The midpoint of this arc is highest at midsummer, June, and lowest at midwinter, December.

Due to their formation from a belt of matter around the infant Sun, the planets lie in the plane of the ecliptic.

Consequently, to observe the planets you follow the line of the ecliptic. Which planet pops up first depends on the position of the Earth in its orbit around the Sun. This also decides whether they are visible in the evening or in the early morning. At some point they are also there in the day too but, generally, cannot be seen against the bright sky. (Several years ago, I did observe Jupiter in the afternoon).

There is an observational difference between the outer planets, Mars, Jupiter, Saturn and Neptune, and the inner planets, Mercury and Venus. The latter two move faster in their orbits than we do so overtake the Earth. Consequently, Mercury and Venus become morning or evening planets several times a year. However, we overtake the outer planets so, effectively, they are easy evening objects in autumn and winter, early morning objects in spring and summer. Mars is a bit of a pig in the middle as it is not that far away and can, due to its elongated orbit, be pretty close in some years.

So, the planets follow an arc across the sky which begins around the SE and sets around the SW. The centre being due South.

The lower the horizon is between SE and SW, then the more time you have to observe and the better chance you have to see several planets at once. If you have a narrow horizon then you will have to wait as each planet passes through your line of sight (as the Earth turns remember!).

Good seeing (clarity), a dark sky, and an unimpeded horizon, lets you see right down to the ground. These conditions are unlikely all to be met. Consequently, the times for observation I give are generally later than when planets actually rise and they are already on their journey along the arc. This also means they will be higher and, hopefully, clear of any buildings or trees.

Observing times and positions will also change during a month. This month, planets will rise earlier as the month progresses and also into darkening skies. Consequently, at the same time of night, they will be a little higher in the sky at the end of the month than they are at the beginning. Higher means less atmospheric murk to look through, so better observations.

Anyway, I hope that is at least as clear as Heacham Honey.

Jupiter. North Norfolk Astronomy Society some years ago.

In the middle of the month: 11.30pm; Saturn will be just over the SE horizon. At midnight, Jupiter appears in the E. Ice giant Neptune will be between these two gas giants but closer to Jupiter and a telescope will be needed to see it.

At 1.30am, Saturn will be SSE, Jupiter ESE and Mars ENE. Uranus will be below Mars and a little further E. Good, steady, binocular might reveal it.

At 2.30am; Mars is E; Jupiter roughly SE; Saturn closer to the S.

At 3.30am, the planets are generally getting higher in the sky. Uranus is due E and Venus joins low in the NE

At 4.30am the sky is lightening, Venus is ENE, Mars high in the SE, and Jupiter high in the SSE. Saturn is still just visible in the SSW.

At the beginning of the month everything moves forward about an hour but the sky is lighter and viewing will cease to be possible earlier in the morning. At the end of the month, it is a tad darker and things happen a little earlier. Jupiter rises in E at 11.30pm and Saturn will be visible too due SE.

Note, Mercury is not visible at all as it lies too close to the Sun.

You may be asking, 'How do I find the planets amongst, hopefully, some visible stars?' First, look in the directions indicated above from the horizon to about a quarter of the way up the sky – depends on time. The planets don't twinkle and look different to stars.

Jupiter will be bright at magnitude -2.8; it will look white. A telescope will reveal reddish bands. A telescope, birding 'scope, or large binoculars will reveal the Galilean moons – up to 4 sparks of light close to the planet.

Saturn is a lot fainter at magnitude +0.5/ It is yellowish. A telescope will reveal its rings.

Mars is a little brighter than Saturn and has a magnitude of +0.3. It will be a red dot. Steady binoculars will make it easy and, once you know where to look, your naked eyes should see it.

Neptune through a telescope is an ethereal greeny blue. Uranus viewed by 'scope or good binoculars a blueish dot.

Venus cannot be missed as it will be shining bright at magnitude -3.9. it will be presenting a gibbous phase to us (like the Moon when it is past ¾ but not Full) so there is plenty of 'surface' reflecting sunlight towards us. This is actually the top of Venus's very dense carbon dioxide and sulphuric acid atmosphere. It has a high albedo – it reflects light well.

Spotting the planets on special days: 15th, Saturn is immediately above the Moon; 19th, Jupiter is close to the Moon; 21st and 22nd, Mars is close to the Moon; 26th and 27th, see the crescent Moon with Venus.

And why is the Moon often in the same region of the sky where you find the planets? Because the plane of the Moon's orbit around the Earth is closely aligned with the plane of the ecliptic. That is why we get eclipses of the Sun. The Moon, from time to time, is between us and the Sun.

On the 13th is this year's brightest Supermoon. The Moon will be 357,418km away compared to the average distance of 384,400km. The furthest the Moon can be away is 405,500km.

It is hard to discern many stars during summer nights but there are a few which will stand out from around 11pm. Look SE and raise your eyes from the horizon. The first bright star you come to is Altair. Carry on up to almost overhead and Vega will be brilliant. To the left of Vega, further east, there is Deneb. These three stars form the asterism of the Summer Triangle.

Deneb is the tail of Cygnus, The Swan which looks like a cross. The head of The Swan, bottom of the cross, is Albireo, my favourite double star. It is midway between Altair and Vega and a tad to the left.

Albireo is a yellow giant star with a smaller, blue-white star associated with it. There is a debate as to whether the two stars are linked gravitationally or just appear close visually. Measurements by the Gaia telescope suggest a link, other observations disagree. Whatever the case, a small telescope reveals a very lovely sight.

Albireo. Internet.

Space exploration is going an apace with multiple missions on Mars; BepiColumbo on track to orbit Mercury in 2025; Juno still at Jupiter; two solar probes; New Horizons still active far, far, beyond Pluto; Voyagers 1 and 2, launched in 1977, both in interstellar space, and multiple missions to asteroids and comets.

The UK has not developed space launch capabilities since the 1960's and early 70's. Blue Streak formed the first stage of a satellite launch system, the second stage being French and the third German. The UK pulled out of the project and the Ariane was born, the French dominated launcher for the European Space Agency, ESA. The UK did build the Black Arrow rocket and launched a satellite, Prospero, from Woomera in Australia in 1971. Its last signals were recovered in 2004 and it is still in orbit.

This year, 2022, should see satellites launched from UK spaceports. They will either be vertical launches from the ground or horizontal launches, dropped from a plane. The UK is a world leader in satellite development and satellites are becoming much smaller. There is also a demand for polar orbiting satellites which are best launched from northern latitudes. The first vertical launch will be from SaxaVord spaceport in the Shetlands. A launch, using a UK designed and manufactured rocket, will follow from Space Hub Sutherland.

Enjoy the planets and, if you miss them this month, they will be there in August too. Look out for tour holidays to UK spaceports to watch launches. Spaceport Heacham might appeal to me – caravans in space?

I read an article the other day about a mother who had just cooked the dinner. Her teenage children were upstairs but instead of going to the bottom of the stairs and calling up to her children, she texted them on their mobile phones to tell them their meal was ready.

How communication has changed. It wasn't so many years ago that it was rare for people to have a landline in their homes and now nearly everyone has a mobile which they carry around with them and so can use at any time. I am sure there are many of you who can remember having to go out to the red telephone box to make a call.

Even further back, communication was by letter. Can you remember the last time you sent or received a hand written letter in the post? It used to be exciting to receive a letter and hear all the news from friends and family. Perhaps you still receive letters but they are usually typed.

It made me think further back into history when the only communication for ordinary people was by word of mouth. It is so good to talk with others. We can see the excitement and joy on their face when they are telling good news but also sorrow when the news is sad. When you walk into our coffee morning on a second or fourth Thursday in the month, there isn't silence, there is the noise of chatter, people greeting each other.

There is one friend that will always listen to our joys and our sorrows. Jesus is our friend and he cares about us. We can bring all our cares and worries to him but we also need to be still and quiet to listen to him speaking to us.

We are given an example of prayer in St. Matthew's Gospel chapter 6 vrs 9 where we have the Lord's prayer.

God bless.

YOUTH ACTION EVENTS DAY

Saturday 23rd July 2022

Back in March 2020 the COVID19 Pandemic took hold and the country went into 'Lockdown.' Many Youth Organisations had to temporarily close down thus preventing young children from experiencing the opportunity to gain valuable knowledge, fun and friendships that these organisations have to offer.

Now relate this to adults over the same period, where many of us were members of some club/organisation which held regular meetings and these too closed down and as such we got used to not going. Hence, we fell into the trap of doing nothing.

Children are no different to adults. So now is the time to re-introduce them to this valuable contribution to their childhood.

On Saturday 23rd July 2022, Heacham Youth & Community Trust Ltd are sponsoring an event to give a chance for boys and girls aged

4-18 a taster of what is on offer from different organisations based locally. The following groups taking part on the day are:-

Norseman Boxing Club, Heacham Judo Club, Heacham Scouts, Cubs, Beavers, Girl Guides, Brownies, Rainbows, Heacham Rangers, Hunstanton Army Cadets, Fire Cadets, Wildfowlers, St Johns Ambulance, Heacham Minors FC, Messy Church, Wildlings, Pocahontas Players and Heacham Table Tennis Club.

Although being held in Heacham, the event is open to all those in the local area. The event is free to partake and we would hope that all children aged 4-18 from within the area will come along to enjoy what is available. Due to the nature of the event all children should be accompanied by a parent or guardian. On offer is a free hot dog/burger together with an entry into a free raffle (subject to entry terms) with a chance to win £100 (£50 cash and £50 to be donated to a charity of the winner's choice).

July brings a wonderful selection of music to The Nelson Church

On Friday, July 1st at 7.30pm there is an opportunity to hear the very gifted Mithras Piano Trio playing Beethoven and Dvorak. Tickets are £15.00

Saturday, July 2nd at 7.30pm brings the much acclaimed Marmen String Quartet to Thorpe who will delight with Haydn, Mozart and Beethoven. Tickets are £20.00.

Enjoy tea and cakes from 2pm on Sunday, July 3rd before Benedict Holland (violin) and Brenda Blewett (piano) return to Thorpe for a recital of Debussy, Schubert and Grieg at 3pm Tickets £15.00.

Moving towards the end of the month, we move at a different pace with the hugely talented trumpet player Aaron Akugbo accompanied by pianist Zeyneb Oszuca on Friday, July 15th at 7.30pm. The programme includes work by Telemann, Poulenc and Gershwin. Tickets are £18.00.

On Saturday, July 16th at 7.30pm come with your dancing shoes to enjoy music by Glen Miller, jazz, pop, ballads and more with the fabulous Galaxy Big Band. Tickets are £18.00.

The July concerts conclude with a return visit by the brilliant Ella McCready singing her very varied programme of pop, jazz, Motown and more. Ella will be accompanied by Michael Clancy on guitar. Tickets are £18.00.

What more could you want to enjoy a music packed July!

Children from the local primary schools benefit too, for Music in Thorpe insists they have their own recitals by some of the famous musicians above. What a treat for young ears.

Tickets are now available for all concerts and detailed information on www.musicinthorpe.com or call 07989 177079.

The Queen's Platinum Jubilee, celebrated in Heacham and the surrounding area. Enjoy the many photographs sent to us by our readers

Heacham Jubilee Beacon

On the afternoon of 2nd June 2022, Councillors Robert Pritchard and Terry Clay spent time collecting scythed cut reeds from The Saltings and cut logs from our Millennium wood, to stock up the Heacham Jubilee Beacon, ready for the National lighting at 21.45. We invited the Royal British Legion's Marcus Liddington and John Hussey, Heacham's Legion Standard Bearers, to do this for us. Several people from the village attended.

Matilda Musical proves a Hit at Smithdon

Young performers brought a taste of the West End to West Norfolk with their performances of a specially adapted version of the hit musical 'Matilda.'

The show, Matilda Jr, is based on Tim Minchin's adaptation of Roald Dahl's tale of a young girl with a lively imagination who uses her gifts to overcome a world of oppressive adults, and proved a popular hit with the family and friends who came to see the performances at Smithdon High School in Hunstanton.

"Matilda has just been released through the company who we get our rights from for shows and as soon as it came up we knew that it was the one we wanted to do," said Andrea Miller, Smithdon's head of music. The West End show is musically and theatrically complex, with some dark themes, so adaptations have been made for the school's version.

"These shows are shorter, so they remove some of the plot and stick with the main story line, as well as sometimes taking out less appropriate content, but the production comes with things like backing tracks and choreography videos, which really help with staging," she explained.

Last year the pandemic meant the school could not stage a production so, when Matilda was announced, there was a big surge in interest.

"We really wanted to add an extra element to the show so we tried to incorporate a lot more choreography which really elevated the performance," Andrea Miller explained. "We ended up with 22 pupils from Years 7 to 11 involved, five backstage crews, three on the technical side and about eight on front of house, across the two performances. Drama teachers Vicky Proctor and Kayleigh Brown were the director and choreographer, and I was director of music. Laura Ruskin, one of our art teachers, made some great props, so it looked as well as sounded great."

Smithdon is part of the West Norfolk Academies Trust, which runs 11 schools across the borough, and places great emphasis on the importance of teaching the arts.

"Even in lockdown we tried to continue doing virtual concerts and now things are opening up again, we're so excited to welcome people back for performances," said Andrea Miller. "We regularly have concerts, recitals and showcases and we have some sort of music, drama or dance club on almost every day of the school week."

After so long being denied the chance to gather for performances, the show got a predictably warm reception.

"Many people said it was the best show we've done yet and they were thrilled to be able to be in the school, watching their children perform. There were a lot of 'thank you's' to be said afterwards, because it doesn't happen without the dedication of all the staff and pupils who took part."

No sooner has one show finished, than planning for the next one starts, with the end of the year pencilled in for the performances.

"Let's just say we hope that it's a Bullseye and that you will consider yourself part of the audience," said Andrea Miller.

The Norfolk Hospice celebrates their volunteers for National Volunteering Week

The Norfolk Hospice Tapping House celebrated their volunteers at a special Jubilee-themed thank you event on 7th June.

The event, which is held annually, is an opportunity to invite volunteers from all areas of the Hospice to celebrate their achievements and to see how their volunteering supports the Hillington-based independent charity.

Over 100 guests attended the event at Knight's Hill Hotel & Spa, who kindly donated use of their event space free of charge.

Guests listened to talks from Nicola Ellis, the new Chief Executive at The Norfolk Hospice and Nicky Crown from WhataHoot distillery, who sell a special edition gin, proceeds of which benefits the Hospice.

The event also featured an awards ceremony presented by Tim How, the Hospice's Chair of Trustees. Thirty-nine volunteers received their Volunteering Long Service Awards, which are awarded for every five, ten, fifteen and twenty years of service. Fundraising volunteer Vanessa Blythe and gardening volunteer Marianne Charles both received their specially designed twenty-year award at the event.

Guests were treated to an afternoon tea and the music was provided by Rhythm Travellers which consists of volunteer receptionist Julie Bones and her husband Bob. Guests were also encouraged to wear red, white and blue in celebration of the Platinum Jubilee. Each volunteer received a mint plant as a token of thanks.

Rebecca Walls, Voluntary Services Manager at The Norfolk Hospice, said:

“Our annual volunteer thank-you event is an opportunity to recognise and celebrate the fantastic contribution our volunteers make. The Norfolk Hospice has over 300 volunteers who donate approximately 55,000 hours of their time each year, supporting all departments of the Hospice. We couldn't do what we do without them and their hard work is crucial in delivering our vital care in the local community.”

The Norfolk Hospice launches Retail Volunteer Campaign

Can you ‘Make a Difference’ to The Norfolk Hospice Tapping House? The Hospice is launching a retail volunteer recruitment campaign - ‘Make a Difference’ – to help bolster their volunteer numbers.

The Norfolk Hospice, which has eight charity shops throughout North and West Norfolk and Cambridgeshire, have been extremely busy since lockdown ended with record numbers of both donated items and sales. However, their volunteer numbers are down and they are still desperately trying to recover from the effects of the pandemic.

As a registered independent charity, the Hillington-based Hospice relies on their retail volunteers who kindly donate their time to maximise the Hospice’s income, which in turn raises much needed funds for vital patient care.

Rebecca Walls, Voluntary Services Manager at The Norfolk Hospice, said:

“We are extremely grateful for our amazing retail volunteers who currently donate 500 hours of their time each week. Volunteering has many benefits, including learning new skills and meeting new people and we hope that this campaign will raise awareness in our local community of these benefits and help us to grow our team.

“Volunteers get to work with a great bunch of people, be part of a much loved local charity and make a difference to the lives of the people we care for and their families by helping our retail team raise a significant amount of money for the charity.”

“There are various roles that volunteers carry out, including sorting and pricing, preparing and tidying the items on sale, listing on eBay and till work.”

If you are interested in making a difference and becoming a retail volunteer for The Norfolk Hospice, please apply at www.norfolkhospice.org.uk/volunteer or phone 01485 601700.

They have shops in Hunstanton, Snettisham, Fakenham, Wisbech, Swaffham, Downham Market and two in King’s Lynn.

The Art Collector's Passion

Staring at great art can stimulate the brain to the levels of when we fall in love. We buy art for many reasons, an obvious one being we like to decorate our homes. But the purchase is not just for decorative reasons – we are investing in a visual story, essentially a part of the artist's life and experience that inspired the creation of the work. We will buy art that reflects our own heritage from artists that may have similar backgrounds to our own. When we collect a limited edition of a well-known artist, we may be claiming a right to some of the artist's history.

Collecting art with passion can lead to community fellowship with other dedicated collectors and this strengthens the art industry. Getting together with fellow enthusiasts to discuss the artists, artistic styles and what's new, can play a major role in how collections are developed. Here, the focus is on 'real' collectors, the passionate ones, not those only interested in maximising profits or avoiding paying tax. They are often skilled researchers, they know who owns what, and to find something previously undiscovered can be an incomparable thrill.

Collectors and dealers play important roles in the art market. They pay close attention to all the changes and if they are a major collector/dealer, they will be aware of all the new things needed to stay a leader and not to be overtaken by another collector. Their knowledge and influence can decide whether that artist and artwork will have a place in the market. The collectors' support and influence have a role in determining the artist's future. They may decide the value of an artwork, and they can operate in a similar way to art critics in deciding whether the artist will gain interest and recognition.

“... the true collector's only home is his own museum.” (Orhan Pamuk.) Great collectors can be very secretive about their artworks, but many have a desire to share, like Francois Pinault, the French billionaire, who is quoted saying “the desire to possess – born at the moment I first came into contact with art – has been transformed into a profound need to share.” Museums have been major beneficiaries of some of the world's prestigious art collections and some of the most modest. Many collections in American museums have been gifts from private donors. Recently, contemporary artworks have been bought in such large quantities by the super-rich that new private museums are being built. Rather than just leave their extensive collections in storage they are choosing to share them with the public in these new 'ego-seums'.

Future generations are often the perfect beneficiaries of all the time and hard work the collector has spent in building the collection and their financial rewards may be substantial. They may go on to develop their own collection and become even more famous than the originator. One of the most successful, well known and intriguing was Penny Guggenheim, who along with Uncle Solomon founded The Guggenheim Museum in New York and changed the face of 20th century art. Ahead of her time she discovered and nurtured a new generation of artists producing a new kind of art.

The Arts Society North West Norfolk will be hosting a lecture by Alexandra Epps on the 'poor little rich girl' Peggy Guggenheim on Monday 11th July 2022 at 2pm in Sedgeford Village Hall. New members are welcome to join our Society and details are on our website www.artsocietynwnorfolk.org.uk

NB: Please note that The Arts Society take a break from lectures in August and September - back in October.

THE ARTS SOCIETY - ENRICHING LIVES THROUGH THE ARTS

Next lecture: Monday 11th July 2022 at 2pm in Sedgeford Village Hall

Peggy Guggenheim Lecturer: Alexandra Epps

The 'poor little rich girl' who changed the face of twentieth century art. Not only was Peggy Guggenheim ahead of her time but she was the woman who helped define it. She discovered and nurtured a new generation of artists producing a new kind of art. Through collecting not only art but the artists themselves, her life was as radical as her collection.

Alexandra has a BA from Saint Martin's School of Art and an MA from the London College of Printing. Alexandra's background is in design, running her own design consultancy for many years. She is an official Guide and Lecturer at Tate Modern, Tate Britain and the Guildhall Art Gallery and a lecturer at the Pallant House Gallery. She is a qualified Guide to the City of London, offering lectures and walks about many aspects of the arts for societies, corporations and private individuals. She is also a member of the City of London Guide Lecturers Association and co-author of the book Lord Mayor's Portraits 1983-2014 (2015).

Lavender Lace Makers

The Lavender Lace Makers would like to thank everyone who contributed towards our fund-raising for Tapping House Hospice.

We had our lace day at the end of May which was very successful; there was a good atmosphere throughout the day, plenty of chat and laughter, it was a good day.

We handed over our cheque for £1,127.32 on the day. It was lovely getting back together after the last two years and we have booked the community centre for next year, 20th May 2023. It is not just for lace makers but for anyone who does a craft, Knitting, Cross Stitch or any other; we look forward to seeing you and there's cake in the afternoon.

Hunstanton & District Rotary Club

In pursuit of our aims to support local charities and good causes, we recently raised sufficient funds to provide 50 emergency toiletry bags for the QE Hospital. These will provide much needed immediate basic washing and grooming facilities for patients admitted for treatment from the A & E department.

Several of our lady members provided the materials and hand made the bags, which we then filled with various toiletry items, and sincere thanks must go to them for all their hard work.

The presentation was made possible with the help of Kerry Robinson and her colleagues at the A & E department.

A special mention for a dear friend and fellow Rotary member Julie Dillon who made a significant contribution to this donation, sadly no longer with us.

Jubilee displays
brighten
Hunstanton shops and seafront

Shopkeepers and seafront traders really got Hunstanton into the Platinum Jubilee spirit with some magnificent patriotic displays that paid a special tribute to Her Majesty The Queen and her 70 years loyal service to Great Britain and the Commonwealth.

Hunstanton Town Council organised a Best Shop Window competition, and the judges found it quite a challenge to choose a winner from the many entries that have brightened up the streets.

Newly elected Mayor, Maureen Howard said: "I was delighted that so many entered the competition, and their efforts, large and small, were there for all of us to see and enjoy.

"It was a tough call, but we were particularly impressed with the display at The Hospice Shop facing The Green. An enormous effort was put into filling the windows with mementoes that reflect the happy mood of the many jubilees we have enjoyed.

"The Hospice Charity Shop shared First Prize with the Rainbow Park Amusement Centre at the south end of the town, where the judges recognised that many hours must have been spent climbing tall ladders to festoon the funfair with what looked like miles of Union Jack flags. Well done!"

A number of highly commended certificates were issued to shopkeepers who had also gone that extra mile.

Maureen Howard added: "In truth, everyone who entered is a winner. The Queen's Platinum Jubilee is a time for us all to celebrate, and filling the town with flags, bunting and now the special window displays is a clear demonstration of the strong community spirit that exists in Hunstanton."

WHEN DOES A HOBBY BECOME A BUSINESS?

By Kathryn Gigg Chartered Accountants, Hunstanton

The question of overlap between a hobby and a business can be a puzzling one. The special case of farming and market gardening is dealt with at some length and has its own special legislation (see further below) but for other activities the position is less clear cut.

Case law has established that in order for a business to exist there should be some sort of business structure (making business decisions, dealing with customers etc) and there should be business activities such as buying goods for resale or providing services. HMRC manuals define "trade" as being "operations of a commercial kind by which the trader provides to customers for reward some kind of goods or services. The extension of the definition to 'ventures in the nature of trade' allows for the inclusion of isolated or speculative transactions".

Looking at this in practical terms it is fairly easy to see outlying examples which would fall either side of a line. Transactions which would not be deemed a trade might include:

- Household items which were purchased for personal use but sold when no longer required.
- Disposals by an executor in the realisation of an estate.
- One off transactions such as buying goods in bulk and sharing the cost with neighbours where there is no profit involved.

Conversely, someone who regularly buys goods with the intention of selling them on (perhaps buying at auction or from a wholesaler and selling retail through small ads or at boot sales), will almost certainly be carrying out a trade. Similarly, where residential property is profitably bought and sold more often than would be normal the activity can be deemed a trade, even if the vendor lives in the properties concerned. The position will depend on circumstances, so a military family who are frequently reposted would probably not be trading, but a professional builder who works on each property before selling it on would be in a much less defensible position. There are several decided tax cases on the matter which look at various "badges of trade" including the number and frequency of transactions, the source of finance, any element of improvement between purchase and sale and the reason for the sale.

Even if a profitable trade is being carried on, small scale activities will not necessarily give rise to a tax charge. Where total turnover is less than £1,000 such income is not taxable unless it derives from:

- a company you or someone connected to you owns or controls.
- a partnership where you or someone connected to you are partners.
- your employer or the employer of your spouse or civil partner.

It will, however, still often be necessary to register for self-assessment and then claim the Trading Allowance within a tax return.

Finally, whilst HMRC are keen to tax profits, the legislation is also in place to prevent loss reliefs being claimed where no business exists. If the activity is not profitable and is not being carried out "with a view to profit" then loss relief will not be available to set against other income sources. As mentioned above, specific rules are in place for farmers and market gardeners which accept that farming profits can fluctuate from year to year for all manner of reasons outside the control of the taxpayer. Where such trades are carried on, loss relief is blocked after six consecutive years of losses unless it can be demonstrated that a competent farmer would not at the outset have expected to turn a profit within that period.

It is clear, therefore, that this issue can be quite problematic. Sometimes we see people who have been losing sleep over a simple matter such as selling household goods as part of a downsizing exercise or after a bereavement. In other cases what started as a hobby can slowly turn into a fully-fledged business, and it can be difficult establishing when the transition took place. In either case, a timely request for advice can save a great deal of worry.

Please contact either myself or my assistant Nicola Tarry FCA on 01485 534800 or email kate@kathryngigg.co.uk if we can assist in any way.

Borough Council News Heacham Sedgeford and Fring

By the time you read this, the referendum on both the Heacham and Hunstanton Neighbourhood Plans will have been done and dusted. I hope both village and town voted yes. The consequences of a no vote could be dire.

Turning to something I know was good, I have to congratulate Heacham Parish Church, St Mary's, for their Jubilee event – flowers, scarecrows, activities for children and the food! All wonderful. I am sure the Sedgeford beacon lighting and celebration was good too but I missed out as I went to see the Heacham Beacon lit. Cllr Dark and I enjoyed our visits to Heacham Infant and Heacham Junior Schools to give out the BCKLWN Jubilee coins. Both schools impressed us both – pupils, teachers and the learning ambience within their buildings. Good stuff!

There were many inventive scarecrows around the village too. I thank businesses for stepping up to the challenge and greatly admired the contributions from Wallis's and Studio@55, both in the High Street.

The Borough Council is having a think about tourism, considering whether there can be too much of it. Last month an application for more caravans in Heacham was allowed. I opposed it as did the Parish Council. An argument was made that there is a need for more caravans/lodges. No there isn't, there is a desire by many to purchase such almost permanent homes in this locale but there is no need.

House building is restricted by planning regulation, installing lodges for 'tourism' gets around some of those rules. The Neighbourhood Plan, if it has been accepted, will close some, not all, of the loopholes and make it hard for new houses to become second or holiday homes. The latter problem is growing with large numbers of so called 'essential' houses being nothing of the sort. Whitby has just voted to prevent all new builds being second homes or holiday lets

Any new houses built in this Ward should be truly affordable or rentable and restricted to current residents and their families first. It remains to be seen what will come out of their reserved matters application for 135 houses off Cheney Hill. Another large-scale application has just emerged on the Hunstanton border with Heacham; 160 dwellings altogether including 100 'housing with care' units. I would hope that should these be favoured by Hunstanton Town Council that conditions can be made to benefit local people.

The Borough Council is, at last, looking to increase its planning officer numbers and to reorganise its structure. Planning enforcement will get a boost. At the time of writing there has been a press release about their intentions but it has yet to go through panels and Cabinet. I am glad it is most likely to happen and will keep an eye on the outcomes. What you will most likely not see, in any fresh announcements, is that constant lobbying and complaints from the opposition have played no small part in these changes. My group has been a consistent irritant about planning matters.

I am well aware that the 'illegal' campsite is still operating at South Beach. Legal services pulled the court injunction but the matter is not yet resolved.

Another BC improvement is in the matter of environmental matters. A double page spread appeared in the Lynn News on 10th June promoting the BCKLWN Climate Change Expo on the 21st. It gave the timeline of initiatives it has undertaken since September 2021.

That start date was when the Council declared a Climate Emergency. However, pressure to declare a climate emergency and take actions to reduce the carbon footprint of the Council began in 2019. The Council rejected all proposals, motions, and requests for them to do something. All the pressure, of course, came from the opposition.

The sea change in Tory opinion came just before and with COP26, the UN Climate Change Conference held in Glasgow in October 2021. Boris and the government had to demonstrate what the UK was doing to reduce carbon, so declarations had to be made.

Anyway, better late than never and the opposition will continue to hold the Council to account to ensure promises are kept and things improve. One aspect will be tree planting, currently behind in numbers with, unfortunately, many deaths. Another will be making the new Environment Policy actually do something and the biodiversity working group meaningful. Actions always speak louder than words.

I hope you all do your bit to make us greener so that wildlife trust reserves and places like Wild Ken Hill don't become 'zoos' in the midst of a desert. Flowers, long grasses, hedgerows, trees, ponds, are all needed everywhere

The refurbished toilets at South Beach Heacham opened in time for the Jubilee weekend. I have grown grey pushing for this work to be done and have a greater need for them now than I did years ago. They are clean and smart. There is a defibrillator and a fast electric charge point for a car. Don't mix them up. The shower has gone but a footwash tap remains. Any problems let me know.

Prescriptions. The letter I got from Boots on the 17th May explained the problems Boots were experiencing with staffing and emphasised they were working hard to overcome problems. Have things got better? I have had one, extensive, complaint about waiting times since then.

creating happiness for all ages

The old dairy site Heacham. I had a meeting on site with a BC officer but, to date, I have had no feedback. If the land has to go, I would like affordable flats for Heacham people on it though I don't know if that will become feasible. At the moment, there is little appetite for some building works due to spiralling costs. It seems this malaise may extend to sites already owned by the Borough.

I have visits planned to two potential, smallish, development sites in the Ward. The ongoing one on Hunstanton Road is not moving as at 14th June.

Nearly forgot. That Towns Fund for King's Lynn. There is now a revised programme which will cost £37million overall (£25million from bid). £12million goes to the Guildhall and £12million to the Multi User Community Hub. So, we now know how much the MUCH should cost but no-one appears clear, yet, about what it is. A central feature will be a modern library. The fate of the magnificent Carnegie library building is not known but assurances have been given that it won't be sold off. (All this depends on the government giving the £25m).

Keep well.

 Heacham and Hunstanton Neighbourhood Plans have passed their referendums, so are now in place.
 A planning application in Heacham, if passed recently, will benefit as the dwelling will have to be a primary residence, i.e. not a second or holiday home. This was recognised by officers in anticipation of the results.

Whilst the whole world was celebrating the Platinum Jubilee, HCC put up flags and bunting to welcome AC players from all over the country to play in a 3 day tournament.

On Friday and Saturday, the weather was kind, the lawns were running well and the standard of play was high. Everyone had seen Sunday's forecast and prepared for a soggy day. Play got underway only 10 minutes later than usual and the morning was not too miserable. In the afternoon clothes were thoroughly dampened but not spirits.

The eventual winner was John Henderson – presented with the salver by Janet Kendal, HCC chair.

Many thanks to the whole behind the scenes team for making such events possible.

Once again, the Croquet Club hosted a prestigious tournament as 14 of the country's top players competed in the Golf Croquet 'A' series, on 14th and 15th May.

'A', 'B' and 'C' level tournaments are held all over the country throughout the season, with the 'A' level series being reserved for those with the lowest handicaps. Hunstanton's David Boxell and David Thirtle-Watts both qualified for this event.

The winners in three categories were: England player Richard Bilton, Debbie Lines, and Paul Durkin. Special congratulations to Richard for treating us to a double hoop (hoops 5 and 6 with a single hit) in his final round.

Our thanks to Terrey and Richard for managing the tournament and all the volunteers who are up early to prepare the lawns and who help with refreshments and clearing away.

Heacham Parish Council Notice Board

PARISH COUNCIL MEETINGS IN BRIEF

The next Full Council Meeting will be held on Tuesday 19th July at 7.00pm at the Old Friends Hall, Sunnyside.

The Full Council Meeting for August will be held on Tuesday the 16th at 7.00pm at the Old Friends Hall Sunnyside.

Please see the Parish Council website, noticeboard at the Old Dairy Site, Pound Lane and the Parish Office window for agendas. Council Meeting minutes will be posted on the Parish Council website shortly after each meeting (these are draft minutes until they are agreed at the next meeting). The committee meetings have resumed and these will also be held in the Old Friends Hall, Sunnyside. Members of the public are invited to attend committee meetings if they wish.

COFFEE MORNINGS

Everyone is welcome to come along to the Coffee Mornings held at the Old Friends Hall. These will be held on the last Wednesday of each month. Admission is £2 per person.

CARNIVAL

Heacham Carnival Parade and Fete 2022

 Time to start thinking about your float ***

Walking entrants are also welcomed.

Are you going to win the £100 prize for the best float?
Give it a go - you never know.

For more information, please contact Sue or Liz at the Parish office.

The Carnival will take place on Sunday 7th August.

Entry forms will be available nearer to the event.

CARNIVAL COLLECTION

Applications for local organisations to hold the street collection at this year's carnival parade should be submitted in writing to the Parish Clerk.

POLICE SURGERY

The Police will be holding a surgery in the village Library in the Church Hall on the High Street on Tuesday July 19th 10am until noon. The last one was very successful; please pop along with any issues you may have.

YOUNG HOT SHOTS DAY

Heacham Wildfowlers' Association will be hosting their Young Hot Shots day on Saturday 13th August at Heacham Chalk Pit. Children from the age of 8 can try their hand at clay pigeon shooting, under the supervision of BASC instructors. Places must be booked in advance at the Parish Council Office. Sessions run from 10.00am-11.30am and 12.00noon-1.30pm.

SCARECROW TRAIL

Thank you to all those who took part in the Scarecrow Trail for the Queen's Platinum Jubilee. It proved to be quite popular and we had many voting slips through the Office letterbox, so thank you for that also and for taking the time to go round the trail. In first place is number 9, A E Wallis (Trooping the Colour) and very close behind in second place is number 28, Mrs Robinson (King Charles I). Well done to the worthy winners and thank you to Norfolk Laverder for donating the prizes: Afternoon tea for 4 and a family ticket to the Animal Gardens and Play Park.

!!WANTED!! PARISH COUNCILLOR

Would you like the opportunity to put something back into your community? Heacham Parish Council's fifteen Councillors need two Parishioners to join them to help look after the village. You would need to be able to commit a few hours each week to attend meetings and to get involved with the work of the Council. If you are interested, please call the Parish Council Office, or contact the Clerk Sue Eke for more details on 01485 572142 / 07861359525.

RECREATION GROUND

The recreation ground on Lodge Road has suffered significant vandalism to the surfaces under the swings and smaller equipment. This may make the areas unsafe for younger children to use. Please report to the Parish office if you see anyone behaving suspiciously.

CONTACTING THE PARISH COUNCIL

Can we remind residents once again that Heacham Parish Council do not answer questions nor get into discussions on Social Media or in any other publications. The staff in the office are happy to answer any questions or queries anyone may have regarding issues in the village, anything we cannot solve ourselves can be directed to those that can. Please see contact details at the foot of this page.
